IMPORTANT PRIVACY NOTICE FOR CALIFORNIA CONSUMERS

LAST REVISED: JANUARY 1, 2023

This Privacy Notice for California Consumers (“Notice”), provided by Turbo99. (“Turbo99,” “Company,” “we,” or “our”), supplements, and is expressly made part of, the information contained in TURBO99’s Online Privacy Policy applies solely to those who are consumers (“you” or “your”) as defined in Section 1798.140(g) of the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”). We adopt this Notice in compliance with the CCPA and any terms defined in the CCPA have the same meaning when used in this Notice. TURBO99 collects information that identifies, relates to, describes, references, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer, household, or device (“personal information”). As a consumer, you have certain rights regarding your personal information as defined in the CCPA. This Notice provides you with information on how TURBO99 collects, uses, and shares personal information. It also outlines the rights you have regarding personal information that we collect from you and describes how you can exercise those rights.

Collection and Use of Personal Information As a company that conducts activities that are financial in nature, TURBO99 is a “financial institution” as that term is defined in the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLBA”). While the CCPA does not exempt financial institutions, and thus, TURBO99, from its requirements, Section 1798.145(e) of the CCPA does exempt personal information collected by a financial institution pursuant to the GLBA. Accordingly, much, if not all, of the data consumers provide to TURBO99, or that we collect from consumers, will fall within the GLBA exemption to the CCPA’s definition of personal information and thus outside the scope of the CCPA. TURBO99 recognizes the eleven (11) broad categories of personal information referenced in the CCPA that a business may collect about a consumer. TURBO99 has collected the following categories of personal information from consumers within the last twelve (12) months (though most, if not all, such personal information is collected pursuant to the GLBA and is thus exempt from the CCPA):
